About JSEE

The Japanese Society for Engineering Education (JSEE) was established in 1952. International cooperation is a very important issue for both accreditation of engineering education and the certification of professional engineers. JSEE has established cooperative agreement with ASEE, SEFI and KSEE, and a member society of IACEE, AESEAP and IFEEES. JSEE is the principal engineering society to support JABEE, Japan Accreditation Board for Engineering Education, and JABEE joined the Washington Accord as a full signatory member in 2005.

The International Session

This is the 5th trial to organize an international session on engineering education during the JSEE Annual Conference & Exposition. It is expected that the prominent members of ASEE, SEFI, KSEE, IACEE and AESEAP will participate in this International Session.

Themes

The theme for JSEE Annual Conference is “Globalization of Engineering Education”. The theme for International session is “International Cooperation in Engineering Education”. Wide varieties of papers are welcome for the presentation.
